

Criteria for 2019
Jack W. Anderson
ENGINEER LEADERSHIP AWARD

The Jack W. Anderson Engineer Leadership award is given to an individual by The Chattanooga Area E-Week Committee for their leadership role in the community as a respected engineer. It is presented to an individual who has made outstanding personal and professional contributions in service of their community.

Qualifications/Method of Selection:

The Awards Committee makes the selection of the winner, based on the following criteria:

- The candidate must be a degreed engineer with management experience in an executive position in business, industry, government, or non-profit organization in the Greater Chattanooga Area. The selection will be on the individual's merit, not as a representative of the organization or company.
- Selection will be based on candidate's accomplishments during the past calendar year 2018, but with consideration on prior year's accomplishments and contributions.
- The candidate should be actively involved in Public service programs.
- The candidate must have provided Leadership in the application of engineering practice and impacted the economic development of the greater Chattanooga Area.
- The candidate must be broadly recognized as a role model for ethical management and practice of engineering in his or her professional career.
- The candidate must have contributed to Community Well Being through activities other than primary position: civic, professional, church or educational leadership.
- The candidate should be dedicated to civic, community or national programs of improvement and support for the benefit of all people and the engineering profession.
- The candidate should have demonstrated significant community or civil loyalty and support for Engineering leadership development programs.
- The candidate must be a visible advocate of the engineering profession in the American enterprise system.
- The candidate's professional integrity is beyond question.
- The professional reputation is more than local in character.

Nomination Format: Nominations must be made on the attached Engineer Leadership nomination form. You may also include extra-attached information such as newspaper clippings, company announcements, resume or other vital supporting information about candidate.
